Our Town

By J. B. White

A plan to bring electrification to rural homes in Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee is proposed not by the government this time, but by the Arkansas Light and Power Company, headed by Harvey C. Couch, who suggests that the program can be paid for if each farm wife will add twenty or more good hens to the farm flock.

We are not familiar with the details of the Couch scheme and have no idea what they contain. The important part of the plan is that it evidences an intention on the part of the company to take care of the business of selling electricity in its territory and to extend its benefits to the farming people, where the need is so great.

This is the kind of a fight for big business to carry to government operation and a way to prevent the much-talked about "interference" with business. The main reason why government is doing many things today is the failure of private enterprise to do them. Electrification of rural America is one of the jobs that must be accomplished and if private companies cannot, or will not, do it, then the government must.

Mr. Couch would finance consumers in the purchase of a limited amount of electrical equipment, build transmission lines to their homes and let them pay for the whole in monthly payments. Moreover, to aid the farmers in making their payments he would encourage poultry and egg production. His experts figure that eggs from five good hens will pay for the lighting; those from two hens will run the iron; another pair will pay for the washing, the water pumping and the interest and so on! And to make it easier, farmers will be allowed to work on the transmission lines for the down-payment.

The average dollar on deposit in American banks and that means Cameron banks belongs to the individual. It is not always logical to say that the aggregate of wealth thus piled up should be available for any and every kind of loan. On the other hand a definite responsibility rests upon the banks to maintain within reach of legitimate demand all possible facilities for common credit. It is undeniable that during the depression, banks generally were impenetrable and this condition was due as much to the attitude of dollar owners as to the conservative banker.

Usually banks reflect the sentiment of depositors and dollar owners were as panicky as were bankers when the storms of depression hit the country after the 1929 crash. To liberalize the people and restore confidence has been the task of the new deal group at Washington. Whether the government will shake down finance and restore credit facilities remains to be seen. It appears rather a matter for revival of confidence and good feeling. After all, no matter what the condition, it lies fairly well within the power of the composite citizen to remedy.

There is enough money in Cameron to serve the commercial needs of all our people. Turned over fast enough, and passed from one citizen to another, there is enough to make all our people prosperous. Here again enters the vital factor of personal attitude. Dollar owners hold the key to the destiny of any community. Business men have been slow to popularize community consciousness by placing the index finger of logic on the spot where failure so often occurs.

Every time a dollar kisses the community good-bye it goes to help the prosperity of other sections. While some of our coin has to go, there are many occasions when the money could stay in Cameron with equal benefit to the spender and positive profit to the merchants here, who depend upon the local market for support.

No outside firm pays taxes in Cameron. They do not contribute to our charities, neither do they employ our unemployed. If the people will make up their minds to be loyal to Cameron in spending their money it will mean a greater future for all of us.

There is no advantage to Cameron in postoffice prosperity. Unfortunately when the postal receipts increase it too often indicates that the mail order houses are getting the dollars owners might otherwise control and divert to their own benefit and the community.

BUSINESS MAN A SUICIDE

GRAND JURY MAKES STATEMENT HERE

NO INDICTMENTS FOR LIQUOR LAW VIOLATION

Although the Grand Jury in its preliminary report to the District Judge, had established, after five days in session, that "certain places" in Milam county, selling liquor are running wide open, no bill of indictment was returned.

Instead, the Grand Jury "requested peace officers to more strictly enforce this law and all other laws." The jury was to reconvene on January 24th but due to the secretive deliberations no information could be had as to its course then. Whether the jury is waiting for officers to do what it thus far has failed to do, remains to be seen.

Governor Allred on Tuesday said that if and when local officers failed to enforce the laws, he would do so with full state authority. It was practically certain that the new governor would do nothing of the kind. Texas is a wide open state, according to the Senate Crime Committee and to dry up liquor would mean martial law in every Texas county, it was advanced.

Marble machines were condemned by the Grand Jury as a nuisance and teaching children to gamble. Bucket shops, raffles and the like, thus far are not mentioned. The attorney for the Senate Committee when quizzed about the inclusion of Milam county in the "crime column" said the report related to slot machines last October.

Considerable expressed opinion involved the early possibility of repeal of the Texas liquor laws. Governor Allred is pledged to submission. Some doubt whether the legislature will submit the question, but pending the disposition of the matter no definite policy is likely to be established in Texas.

The report of the Grand Jury is as follows:

To the Hororable Graham Gillis, Judge:

"The Grand Jury, for the above term of said court, beg to report that we have been in session five days and during said period of time we have examined 88 witnesses and during all of our deliberations we have foud 15 true bills of indictment. 15 being of the grade of felony and none being of the grade of misdemenor.

"This grand jury has worked as best it knows how to carry out the Judge's instruction to look into the condition of open and flagrant violations of gambling and liquor laws in Milam county, as indicated by the report of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

"We have had before us representative citizens suggested by the Judge and many others and in addition, we have had before us the attorney for said Senate Committee.

"Our findings, so far as any collusion between our officers and violators of the law, gives our peace officers a completely clean bill of health, as the attorney said they had no information of this kind in Milam county.

"With regard to gambling, the only information given us by the Committee's attorney had to do with slot machines and marble machines, back in October. We find that the slot machine condition has been pretty well taken care of.

"As to the marble machines, we consider them a nuisance and that they teach children to gamble. Any marble machine used to bet on is a violation of the law and should be abolished.

"In connection with the Judge's charge to the Grand Jury with regard to open and flagrant violation of the liquor laws, we find from various and reliable citizens that certain places selling liquor are running wide open. This condition was called to the attention of the peace officers of Milam county and these places named. And said peace officers are requested to more strictly enforce this law and all other laws.

"Upon the recommendation of a number of responsible citizens and all the constables, this Grand Jury recommends that the county prisoners be worked on the roads for the purpose of better enforcing the laws and preventing petty crime.

"It has come to the attention of the Grand Jury that operators of certain warehouses were buying products weighed by them, in violation of the law. This practice should be stopped.

"This Grand Jury has inspected the jail and found it to be in a dirty and unsanitary condition. This condition we don't consider the fault of any administration but rather of the long period of time since it was thoroughly cleaned and painted. We recommend a thorough cleaning, minor repairs and painting on the interior of the jail.

"We desire to thank the various Court Officials for the assistance given us through our deliberations and their courtesy in all matters.

Respectfully submitted,
J. D. BASKIN,
Foreman of the Grand Jury.

Attest:
Otto Kelm, Secretary.

O. G. FOLLIS FOUND DEAD IN HOME HERE

O. G. Follis, 35, was found dead in bed at his home at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

The body was completely covered and near his head lay a 38 calibre pistol from which one shot had been fired. A bullet wound was found in his right temple and death according to Dr. A. S. Epperson, city health physician, was instantaneous.

Justice Womack Brashear held an inquest and rendered a verdict of suicide.

It was believed that Follis went to bed with the intention of taking his own life and covered his head to muffle the shot sound.

A few minutes before he had left his service station recently sold him by Bill Alex Bonds. Mrs. Follis said that he complained about a headache and left the station.

Mrs. Follis remained at the station and closed for the night and with her child went home. Seeing her husband's body outlined under the cover and due to the warm night believed he did not need the cover. When she threw back the cover she found him dead.

Follis came to Cameron on January 1 from Houston. He purchased the Bonds Service Station from Bill Alex Bonds who was elected assessor and collector of taxes.

Investigation made by local officers failed to develop any motive for the act, it was said Thursday.

Follis was reared in Milam County, the son of George Follis at Briary.

Funeral services were to be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock with interment in Powers Chapel cemetery near his old home at Briary. He is survived by his widow and two children.

Historic Wood In Lamp Presented To Ella Bess Haygood

Miss Ella Bess Haygood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Haygood of Cameron, was presented with a floor lamp Christmas made from cedar wood a century old.

The wood was first used in a floor in 1836 in a log house, placed there by her great, great grand father, the late Robert Henry who came to America from Ireland. He moved into the house in 1838.

Her grand mother was born in this house, and after she became grown and married the wooden floor was taken up and placed in another log house where her grand mother, Susie Seale, was born. Later she married J. W. Haygood.

At this time the same floor was moved into a lumber residence where later her father, J. W. Haygood of Cameron was born. This wood was used in the floor until 1932 when an uncle, W. B. Haygood of Benchley, Robertson county, made the lamp.

This timber was first cut from a piece of land that is now owned by Miss Ella Bess' grandmother.

The lamp is an electric fitted lamp that may be adjusted to suit the user. She prizes it for its historical value as well as its quaint design.

Marble Machines Held Legal; Court Gives Ruling

Marble machines have been held to be a game of skill and legal in Texas in a recent court decision.

Judge N. S. Kilgore of the district court in Knox county rendered the decision recently when the question was placed by litigation before his court. The case was reviewed in full in a recent issue of The Billboard.

The case is State of Texas Vs. Carl Favor No. 2293 and involves a test of whether these machines, now numerous in Cameron, may be operated in Texas.

The court not only holds them legal but the opinion is also agreed to by the district attorney. The grand jury in session here has made reference to them.

STOLE BABY'S BONNET

Montreal, Canada.—Police are hunting a thief who stole the bonnet from a baby in zero weather. The mother left her four months old daughter in her carriage and returned to find the child blue with cold because the thief had loosened the blankets.

LIFE IN THE ICE

Little America, Antarctica. — No less than two dozen separate species of mosses and lichens have been found on exposed peaks thrusting up through ice of great thickness by Paul Siple, member of the Byrd party. He also reports that thawing pools on the mountain side are teeming with microscoptic life.

FLOOD CITY AREA

New York.—When a forty-eight inch water main burst twenty million gallons of water flooded a twenty-block area, washed up side walks, and flooded cellars, putting out lights in many buildings, including several hospitals.

NO TREASURE

London.—The much exploited treasure of Cocos Island is exploded by Admiral B. M. Chambers, R. N., who declares that the mythical treasure "amounting to seven million pounds" never existed.

GASOLINE PAYS

New York.—Taxes levied by the Federal Government on gasoline in 1934 approximated 170 million dollars, and levies by the State governments were 560 million dollars, according to the American Petroleum Institute.

MOTHER!
don't experiment with your Child's Cold

Rub on VICKS VAPORUB

Often, "mere colds" have serious consequences. It is dangerous to neglect a cold—equally dangerous to experiment with half-way measures.

Feel safe! Use Vicks VapoRub—the proved external method of treating colds. No risks of constant internal "dosing", which so often upsets delicate digestions and lowers resistance when most needed.

DOUBLE DIRECT ACTION

Just rubbed on at bedtime, VapoRub fights a cold direct—two ways at once—by stimulation and inhalation. This combined poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion. Often by morning the worst of the cold is over.

SEEK TREASURE IN SOUTH SEA ISLANDS

Get Line on Peruvian Gold Buried in 1849.

Papeete, Tahiti.—Despite the fact that no authentic trace has yet been found of the fabulous treasure reported buried in the South Sea Islands, plans have been completed for a search for the "king's ransom" which reputedly was taken from Peru in 1849 and subsequently hidden on the island of Penacri, Tuamotus, and the neighboring island of Hiti.

The background of the treasure hunt pieced together from various informants in the South seas is as follows:

Because of the political unrest in Peru in 1849 a number of extremely wealthy merchants and officials decided to convert their holdings into gold and remove the treasure to a place of safe-keeping, presumably Spain.

Crew Captures Ship.

The gold, in ingots, was supposedly placed on a schooner by five trustworthy representatives of the group, but the guards were allegedly thrown into the sea by the crew of the ship when they learned of the value of the cargo, and the course of the vessel changed to Australia.

After many days at sea, so the story goes, the ship arrived at Penacki, where part of the treasure was supposed to have been buried in the lagoon, and the remainder on the island of Hiti.

The schooner then cleared for Australia, landing at Port Darwin, where to avoid unpleasant inquiries the ship was destroyed by fire and the crew proceeded overland to Sydney. On this trip, it was said, several members of the crew were killed by aborigines.

Years later while a patient in a hospital in Australia a member of the crew of the schooner was said to have told a man named Howe the story of the treasure and to have turned over to him the location charts. Howe acquired financial backing and proceeded to French Oceania to investigate. His quest was unsuccessful and he was eventually deported after difficulties with French authorities.

Treasure Located.

Haunted by the lure of the treasure, Howe many years afterward interested another man who in turn interested a group of four other Englishmen, who began operating in French Oceania early this year. This group claims to have located the treasure by means of soundings, though it has not actually been seen or touched.

The expedition is now awaiting the arrival of diving apparatus. Two of the members of the expedition are in Papeete and the others are on various missions.

Value of the asserted buried treasure has been placed in some quarters at the staggering sum of $70,000,000 in gold ingots, plus a chest of jewels of unknown value.

Two representatives of the French government accompanied the expedition in its preliminary search this year. It is reported here that the French government is to receive 50 per cent of any treasure recovered.

Italy Plans New Drive in War on Tuberculosis

Rome.—Over 20,000,000 persons are insured against consumption in Italy, and 5,000 beds in special hospitals are set aside for the cure of such cases.

It is now announced that a new drive is to be put into effect this year and next, which will bring the number of hospital beds available for tuberculosis cases up to 20,000.

Fascist organizations here boast that nothing so ambitious has been attempted in any other country.

Fascism has engaged in a regular campaign to drive consumption out of the country, and the weapon chiefly relied on is the obligatory insurance system now in force for employees, workmen and servants of nearly all categories.

In fact, nearly 80 per cent of the cases offered state assistance in attacks from the disease were treated in special hospitals and sanatoria. When the disease has reached a certain stage of development removal of the patient becomes imperative according to the policy at present being followed by the Fascist doctors.

Massachusetts Family Has Unexpected Guest

Newton, Mass.—The Mansfields had unexpected company that arrived at their door by automobile.

Mary F. McGlone, the visitor, who was driving her car for only the second time, with a companion, became confused, stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake, mistook John J. Mansfield's driveway for a street, drove over the front lawn, and ended her escapade by plowing through the front door into the reception hall. A pair of stairs stopped her, or, perhaps, she might have toured the house.

Lightning Leaves Freak Trail Through Domicile

Groton, Conn.—Lightning left a freak trail through Ernest Blackington's home. Striking a tree, it dug a ditch to the porch, pushed a cart 15 feet, split the kitchen linoleum, then smashed a door casing, followed a water pipe to the sink, twisting the pipe near a faucet, tore a moulding on a screen door, knocked plaster from the ceiling, and left through the roof, displacing shingles and leaving two large holes.

AGENT'S OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED HERE SATURDAY

George Banzhaf, county agent, gives notice that his office will be closed on Saturday January 19 until 1 p. m. An examination for postmaster will be held there in the forenoon, he said. The examination will be for the Buckholts office, it is believed.

RETURNS $2,200

Louisa, Ky. — Shirley Sanson bought an old cupboard at a sale for $2.00. Later he found $2,200 hidden behind a false back. He returned the money to the rightful owners. Some of the coins were dated before 1875 and may be worth more than their face value.

Sheepherder Dies Trying to Aid Dog

Polson, Mont.—The traditional love of the shepherder for his dog was demonstrated here when Jim Butler laid down his life that his inseparable companion might live. Butler, with two companions, was cutting logs for a sheep pen. His dog walked into the path of the falling tree. The herder sprang to the animal's rescue and was struck and killed.

PAINT BUGLER AND THROW HIM IN POOL

His Reveille Call Resented by Fellow Workers.

Chicago.—Robert J. Vanasek does not like to be painted green.

As a matter of fact, he has a prejudice against being painted blue or any other color; but green was the hue over which he brooded as he sat in his bunk sponging himself off with a turpentine-soaked cloth.

Mr. Vanasek has the misfortune to be bugler of the 607th company of the Civilian Conservation corps, encamped near Harms road and Glenview road.

Early one evening Mr. Vanasek was strolling about the camp, thinking what a great thing outdoor life can be. Being painted green never entered his head.

He did not know that a dozen or so members of company 607 were bitter against him; that they were thinking about the "Ta-ta-ta-ta" of his bugle waking them up from sound sleeps.

Consequently it was a great surprise to Mr. Vanasek when, on the outskirts of the camp, a number of indignant CCCers laid violent hands upon him and dragged him away into the woods.

Despite Mr. Vanasek's plaintive cries he was stripped of his clothing with the exception of his shoes and socks. The most artistic of his captors then wielded brushes saturated in green paint.

Presently Mr. Vanasek was a sight to behold. He did not admire his new paint job and did not even want to be sympathized.

So the CCC boys threw him into a nearby pond and went away.

"Ungrateful" about summed up their attitude.

But Mr. Vanasek had recognized a good many of his assailants and reported to his commanding officer. The result was that eight of the CCC workers languished in the jail house of the county highway police at Morton Grove.

Officials of the camp opined that no charges would be pressed, but that the culprits would be discharged and sent home.

Meanwhile Mr. Vanasek wielded his turpentined cloth.

Marries Nurse After 27 Years on Prison Island

Paris.—A simple marriage ceremony attended only by a limited few will be held shortly, probably in Paris, and will mark the first fight lost by the world's most hated prison island for the conquest of a man's soul.

The bridegroom, it was learned today, will be Benjamin Ullmo, who spent almost fifteen years in isolation on a tiny, dreary convict island off the coast of French Guiana, and then a dozen more years condemned to the mainland of the prison colony.

The bride will be Miss Madeleine Poirier, who is a private nurse and who 12 years ago became interested in Ullmo's tragic fate. She started a correspondence which inspired him to fight the jungle heat and loneliness and which finally in the nearest future is to lead to the altar.

"The past is forgotten; I'm going to work now," were Ullmo's simple words on his arrival back in Paris. Ullmo was sentenced to French Guiana as a traitor. In actual fact he was not suspected of dealing with any foreign country, but simply of trying to blackmail the French navy into paying a high price for its code book which he had stolen.

He was doing it, he said, for a beautiful woman named Lison Welch who threatened to quit him unless he obtained more money.

Passenger Pigeons Extinct

About a century ago, billions of passenger pigeons flew about this country, darkening the sky for hours at a time. Flocks were sometimes four miles wide and nearly 250 miles long and the consumption of grain by such congregations was estimated to have been 17,000,000 bushels every 24 hours. Today they are extinct, the last one having died, it is believed, in the zoological garden of Cincinnati in 1914.—Collier's Weekly.

Danger From Lightsocket

Contrary to the general impression a person can be electrocuted by the 110 volts of electricity in a light socket, particularly when his other hand is on a radiator or some other good "ground," writes Dr. S. R. Benedict, Birmingham, Ala., in Collier's Weekly. There have been thousands of such deaths. In fact current as low as 54 volts has been known to kill a human being.

Louisa's Letter

OLD MEN PAY FOR EARLY PHILANDERING

Dear Louisa:-

I am a woman in the fifties. I married a charming man and thought that both of us had the greatest affection and loyalty for each other. I soon found out, however, that my husband was a philander and every pretty face or figure beckoned him away. I tried to ignore his flirtations and cheap little affairs but the humiliations and heart break of it all was becoming too much for me.

I finally realized that the only solution was to stop loving him so much. This sounded hard to do but it really was not as difficult as I expected it to be. I'd just say to myself, "He is not the fine, loyal fellow I thought I was marrying. His love is not worth a great deal if he is willing to embarrass and hurt me for the sake of a casual thrill." You see, he really never fell desperately in love with anyone else—I think I could have excused that—but he just chaperoned our whole relationship with his infidelity.

During the last few years he has wearied of thrill seeking and has tried to reestablish our marriage on its old basis. He tells me that he has never really loved anyone but me, etc., but as far as I am concerned the first love I gave him is deader than dead and can never be revived. I am friendly and try to be companionable, but the deep love and trust I had for him are gone forever. I have other interests and friends who mean more to me than he does.

Don't you think he has lost more than I have? Instead of pitying me—I live a very full, interesting life—people would best pity this lonely old man who has thrown away a relationship which might have been full of understanding and love to the end of life for a series of cheap thrills.

DISILLUSIONED.

Answer: There is not much to answer in this letter, as it tells its own story. I think that "Disillusioned" has lost a great deal as well as her husband. She probably took the best way out of a difficult situation. I dare say there are thousands of old men who feel that they are paying dearly for their side-stepping. This one is fortunate not to have been divorced and remarried to some young wife who would probably have reversed the situation and done a little thrill hunting of her own accord.

Yours,
LOUISA.

Coy Williams, pastor of the First Methodist Church. The P. T. A. Units gave their reports next. Then Mrs. E. H. After luncheon Mrs. Hausenfluck of George town, chairman of the Mother Singers, led the assembly in song and later talked on "The Help and Need of Music in Life and all Organizations." Mrs. Ray Levy of Chilton who is the first vice-president of this district, used the subject, "Health, Happiness, and Usefulness in a Child," in her speech. She told also of a prize to be given to the grammar school which has the best display in handicraft and art. This prize is to be presented by officers of the Parent-Teachers' Association in the Nineth District. This display is to be taken to the District Conference which meets at Waco in April. We surely think our school will capture the prize.

LITTLE BUTTERFLY

Norma Jean

Dear little butterfly
With your wings so shining bright,
Where do you go each lonely night?
You have such a sunny smile,
Always when I watch you each little while.
All the birds and beasts that go by,
Are none as sweet as you, my butterfly.
When spring comes out from its three months' sleep,
And all the birds go "cheep, cheep."
I put my arm on the window sill,
And see you feeding on the daffodils.

LOVELY LEAVES

Albert Edmonds

In autumn time the leaves all fall
And lie on the ground, one and all,
They are so lovely and so red
Like those that are in stories read.
In summer the leaves are large and green,
And add to the beauty of the scene.
Ah me, how beautiful these can be
That every one does look and see.
These are the works of nature strong
That always does her work right, not wrong;
She put them there for us to see
And makes them lovely as can be.

A BARGAIN

An old man who used to reside in our community prided himself on being able to drive the best of bargains. An uncle of mine decided to get the better of him for once at least.

It was decided that they should trade horses on the next market day sight unseen. My uncle got busy and found a way to trick his boastful friend.

When the day came that they should trade, the old man led the poorest, leanest horse I have ever seen, and with a sway back. Everyone laughed long and loud at my uncle, thinking that once again the old man had done best on his trade, but when my uncle presented a saw-horse the laughs were all directed at the old bargain man, who had to admit that this was one time he failed to strike a bargain.

—NELL VAUGHAN.

A FRIEND IN NEED

There is a very true saying that "A friend in need is a friend in deed." This is one of the truest statements ever made. A friend is a person who comes to you in time of need and doesn't desert you. For example, when you are sick and have no one to help you, the ones who come to you are your friends. Or, if you are out of a job and have no one to cheer you, the person who comes to you with a cheery smile is your friend. The last example, and best of all is the Good Samaritan. A man was attacked by robbers and hurt badly. The robbers had left him by the road side. Several men passed the man, including a parson and some other men of importance. Then came a stranger and saw the injured man. He took him on his horse and carried him to an inn-keeper. He gave the man special care. He then left, but came often to see how the injured man was fairing. This was a friend in need.

JEFF T. KEMP

County Judge, Milam County, Texas

Thomas Blinka

Thomas Blinka was born on August 17, 1867 in Austria, now known as the Czecho-Slovakian empire, the son of pioneer parents. He died suddenly on Friday afternoon, December 28, 1934 at Buckholts, and was at the time of his death 67 years and three months of age.

He came to Texas as did many of the sturdy pioneers who cast their lot with the new country, when seven years of age. In his life was much of the rich experience of these men who gave their strength of character and enterprise to the progress of their day and generation.

As a young man, Mr. Blinka spent his years in close application to duty. Early in life he entered the business world, first a clerk in a grocery business at Austin. There he married Miss Eva Burtis who survives him. In 1893 they moved to Buckholts and Mr. Blinka some 40 years ago entered the mercantile business in Buckholts and continued until his death active both as a citizen and business man.

In recent months he had not enjoyed perfect health. His death came suddenly at the close of the old year as he walked from his store to cross the street in Buckholts.

During the more than 40 years he lived in Milam county, Mr. Blinka met every responsibility as a citizen. Not only was he a success in business but in his relations with his fellowmen he endeared himself to many by reason of his excellent character and willingness to serve others. Men found in him a neighbor who never faltered in the exercise of courtesy and helpfulness. To his family he was an inspiration and with them is a rich heritage of years of comforting counsel and tender care. A man of hospitable inclinations he drew about him hundreds to claim as friends.

In his chosen city of Buckholts he played the part of builder and his business life resulted in beneficial associations with all men. In the hours when the body of the pioneer lay in the home that radiated his gracious personality, many gathered to pay their homage.

Mr. and Mrs. Blinka lived in comfort with friends and neighbors to bless their advancing years. No children were born to them, but a niece, Tricie Burtis who is now Mrs. E. B. Hyer was reared in their home and given the loving care of a daughter.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon December 30, 1934 at the Bohemian-Lutheran church in Buckholts with Rev. F. J. Horak, assisted by Rev. J. R. Vilt of Needville, Rev D. S. Burke, pastor of Buckholts Methodist church, Rev. Cervin of Taylor and Rev. W. P. Elliott, conducting the services. Mr. Blinka was a member of the Presbyterian church but found worship in the Bohemian-Lutheran church of Buckholts.

He was a member of the S. P. J. S. T. lodge and a Mason. San Andres lodge in Cameron convened in the afternoon and at the grave in Oak Hill Cemetery took charge of the body and conducted the services. Father O'Sullivan Speaks at Rosebud High School Tuesday

Speaking Tuesday morning before the student body of Rosebud High School Father O'Sullivan of Saint Michael's Crurch, Burlington, said in part when discussing the life of Christ from the age of twelve until the beginning of His public life: "The story of the life of Christ during this period is condensed into the words: 'He was subject to them.' That life was spent in the quiet obsecurity of a humble home in Nazzareth, for the purpose of laying deep the foundation of that school where men might learn to sanctify themselves, the school of the Christian home.

Father O'Sullivan propounded the question as to whether Christ, if He should come back to this earth, would He feel at home in some of our homes today. Poverty and want would not embarass Him. He was accustomed to them in Nazareth. But quarrelling, contention, sulliness would disconcert Him. Brooding, nagging, gossiping and impatience would repel Him. Indecency would rile Him. Irreligion, Godlessness and lustful childlesness would horrify Him. Thanks be to God there are in the American nation millions of homes of every religious belief to which Jesus might be invited to spend the week end without embarrassment either to Jesus or the members of the family. It is in these homes that we find assurance for the perpetuity of the American Republic."

Father O'Sullivan in his address also quoted a statement recently made by Richard Wasburn Child, United States Ambassador to Italy: "Today," the Ambassador said, "many of our colleges are squirming with un-American movements coming from planted nests of green young Communists and flossy professors with a thousand ideas for destruction of capital, destruction of ideals, destruction of religion.

Mrs. Earl Burke and small son, Richard, accompanied by Mrs. Lottie Bigbee, spent Tuesday in Marlin visiting Mrs. Coolley.

CONSTIPATION Can be Helped!

(Use what Doctors do)

Why do the bowels usually move regularly and thoroughly, long after a physician has given you treatment for constipation?

Because the doctor gives a liquid laxative that can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Ask your doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, and these are natural laxatives that form no habit — even in children. Your druggist has it; ask for—

ESTABLISHED 1860

VOL. NO. 72 | CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1934 | NO. 39

Our Town

By J. B. White

A careful comparison of first of the year trade predictions discloses that the same nationally known manufacturers and distributors who now forecast continuance of the favorable trend have not voiced a comparable degree of confidence in exactly 4 years. They ascribe reasons, with the general explanation that recently they were able to base public statements upon statistics of sustained and gradually increasing sales during the last half of 1933 and definite knowledge that the momentum for continuance of partial recovery is founded upon forward orders for all classes of commodities.

Reports from all market centers state that, while January and February will show further gains in distribution, the belief is prevalent among retailers throughout the country that the real improvements will be witnessed in March. More buyers for retail establishments arrived in New York during the first week of January than usually visited the metropolis the first two months of the normal year. Spring sales are expected to be completed before the month is out. This is described as an unprecedented situation, attributed entirely to the apparent necessity for supplying long dormant demand.

It is a favorite saying that there is no available index for confidence. But it cannot be denied that business concerns reflect their faith or lack of it in making up their advertising budgets for the coming period. In a fairly typical statement, Winthrop Hoyt declares in the Editor and Publisher:

"Many of us may wonder where we are going, but Heaven knows, in contrast with 1 and 2 years ago, we at least are on our way. And I know that the business with which I have contracts is improving. Many of our clients are greatly increasing their 1934 advertising appropriations. To date no client has decreased his 1934 appropriation in comparison with his 1933 appropriation."

Either of these developments can fairly be regarded as "an available index for confidence," which is merely a reflection of the confidence the people have reposed in the President's determined effort to restore normal conditions.

THREE DEAD IN CAR WRECK

H. B. McClellen Will Not Be Candidate for Office; In Statement to People

H. B. McClellen, tax assessor for Milam county, will not be a candidate for re-election in the July Primary.

When his present term ends he will have served 6 years in the office he now holds. Under constitutional amendment the offices of Assessor and Collector have been combined.

Mr. McClellen is one of the most popular officials ever to hold office in the county and his retirement from politics will be received with regret by friends over the county. Many friends have offered their support and have asked him to run for the combined offices.

Mr. McClellen, a veteran of the World War, suffered wounds in battle which in the campaign of 1932 made difficult the physical effort incident to the canvas. This is among the reasons he assigns in making his decision not to run.

"I wish to announce at this time that I will not be a candidate for the office of Assessor and Collector of Taxes this year for several reasons; the foremost one being that I do not feel that I would be physically able to go through with a campaign on account of disabilities resulting from battle wounds received in the World War.

"Also, I want to express my grateful appreciation to the people of the county for the honor conferred upon me in electing me to the office of Tax Assessor for the past three terms and for your cooperation during my tenure of office. And in turn I have tried to keep the faith with you by administering the affairs of the office to the best of my ability, and I hope I have been able to justify the confidence you have placed in me.

"I wish to say to my friends who have so generously offered their support to my candidacy again this year that I appreciate it very much, but 'I do not choose to run.'"

Yours respectfully,
H. B. McCLELLEN.

A Second Allotment Of 2500 Lbs. Butter Made to Milam Co.

CAMERON WATER WORKS ON TEXAS HONOR ROLL

The Cameron Water Works was awarded a place on the Roll of Honor for the past year, according to word released today by the State Director of Health, at the Southwest Water Works Association at their Annual Meeting in Dallas. Placement on this roll is an outstanding achievement in water supply protection and water plant maintenance.

Only forty towns in the entire State received this coveted honor. This means that the water samples from these towns have been tested by the State Laboratory each month and found satisfactory, also that operation reports have been received each month. Twenty-six towns in the State missed a place by only one or two points.

A satisfactory water supply is a great asset to any community and as the public is demanding pure water, no doubt many towns will be added to the Honor Roll during the present year. These forty towns show an increase of 35 per cent over the previous year.

Cheeves Bros. Sale January Clearance

A merchandising event of interest in Cameron is the announcement from Cheeves Bros of the annual January Clearance Sale.

This event is a feature in Cameron each year. Due to many lines of merchandise being closed out better prices are available to-day at Cheeves Bros. than will be possible on replaced merchandise.

For this and other reasons the 1934 Sale at Cheeves will make merchandise history.

COTTON FARMERS ARE URGED TO SIGN UP

The County Committee and County Agent want to urge the farmers of Milam county to get busy and sign up for the 1934-35 cotton acreage reduction campaign because the time is limited and the number of committees has been greatly reduced as compared with last year.

It is requested that farmers go to their nearest committee and sign up and help in getting their neighbors to sign up so that the program can be put over in the allotted time. All farmers and every business man in Milam county should cooperate in putting over the 1934-35 program.

Should the farmers fail to cooperate in this campagn we will probably not get more than five cents per pound for the 1934 crop. On the other hand if this campaign is successful we may reasonably expect to get ten cents per pound or more.

It was demonstrated in the 1933 plow up campaign that it paid the farmers well. Milam county farmers received in cash $524,999.00 last fall for the plowed up cotton besides in their option cotton they will receive about $90,000.00 making a total of $614,999.00, and received for their cotton that they harvested about 9 cents per pound. Had the 1933 campaign not been put over according to Government they would not have received over five cents per pound.

January 31, 1934 is the deadline for the sign up, so everybody interested should get busy with this very important project.

Geo. Banzhaf,
County Agent.
Geo. T. Graves,
Chairman Milam Co. Com.

Hick Politician

Here is W. W. Halcomb, the "World's Worst Hick" and editor of the Castro County News at Dimmitt, Texas, who is going to run for Representative from the 120th district. Halcomb is the fellow who got himself a taxi in Dallas to ride from a hotel to the Magnolia building across the street. His platform says the Legisture is a three-ring circus and that nothing would please him more than a ring-side seat, drawing $10 daily. "Besides," adds he, "Youall know that the best joke you could pull on the rest of the state would be to send me to the Legislature."

Gause Man and Bryan Physician Among Dead

Three men were killed Friday night on the highway three miles north of Bryan on the Hearne and Bryan road in an auto accident that badly wrecked two machines in a head on impact and endangered the lives of others.

The dead are:

DR. B. U. SIMS, 56, Bryan Physician.

FRANK GLOVER, Anthony, New Mexico.

R. B. MARTIN, 40, Gause.

The accident occurred when the car driven by Glover struck the wheel of a wagon driven by Ed Twigg, a negro, and swerved into the path of the Sims machine. The Glover car burst into flames. Glover and Martin were dead when taken from the wreck.

A third passenger in the Glover car was Mrs. Sam J. Zimmerman of Galveston who suffered a broken arm and cuts and bruises. She was rescued by passing motorists from the flames of the machine.

Dr. Sims was so badly injured he died shortly after being taken to Bryan. His body was wedged beneath the instrument panel of his car and twenty minutes was required to lift him free of the wreck.

MEMORIAL GATE WILL DENOTE PARK HERE

Work on the lake and dam site in Wilson-Ledbetter Park is well under way.

C. T. Reeves, supervisor for this project, has submitted blue prints drawn by engineers for the memorial gate to this park. The gate is an imposing structure 100 feet in length and is to be built of brown sand stone, petrified wood and oak logs with artistic columns. One column is to bear a bronze plate giving the name of the park and it has been suggested that of Mayor Chas. C. Smith who has been active in promoting this project.

The sum of $22,000 will be spent on this park all from the funds of C. W. A. without cost to the taxpayers of Cameron.

The lake dam is 310 feet in length and is a clay fill type with a 20 foot concrete spill way. The lake will cover about 4 acres, the edges to be fringed with rock to give the pool a more artistic setting.

Green & Boedeker Give Better Food Values To People

Green and Boedeker, enterprising young Cameron grocery merchants, offer in the newspaper this week better food values for Friday and Saturday.

Not only will this be noted from the prices quoted but they are resorting to newspaper advertising for which there is no substitute.

Recent months have seen a cut price war. Small business men have tried to deny their competitors legitimate profits and too often have used the newspaper ad as a target for circular competition. Despite all this adverse effect on newspaper advertising, Green & Boedeker find it still has the better appeal to housewives.

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardui has helped thousands of women:

"I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unnerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day.

"My mother had taken Cardui, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time."

Cardui, the purely vegetable medicine which so many women take and recommend, is sold by local druggists.

Practically all my time is being taken by duties in the office of Mayor as I am giving and have given my personal attention at all times to the business of the people. What time I can spare from the duties of office I must devote to my private business and it will not be possible for me to see and talk with each voter personally. I will not take the time of the housewives by making a house to house canvas and am taking this method of soliciting the votes of those with whom I will be unable to discuss my campaign for re-election.

Your Vote and Support Will Be Greatly Appreciated!

Attention

It has been brought to my attention that a large number of people are under the impression that Judge Kemp and the County Commissioners have the authority to put men to work on Civil Works Projects.

Such an idea is entirely wrong, as neither the Judge of this County nor any of the Commissioners have a right to place a single person on C. W. A. projects, nor have they even attempted to do so, no matter what some people are saying to the contrary.

According to government regulations, this office, and this office only, places the men, and the Administrator is solely responsible for every placement.

Perhaps it will help the general public to know that Milam County's allotment of jobs is 938, and there has been over 5000 registrations for these jobs. However, we have been able to put about 1500 people to work because a large number of workers are sharing their time with others and are at work on half time. So, it is evident, that about one in three who wish to work can be placed on a job.

This office has made many mistakes and every one I regret exceedingly, but the majority of those who are at work have made a statement which shows that they are in need. However, if the attention of this office is called, in writing, to evident error that has been made in putting some one to work that should not have been placed, I assure you that a re-investigation of that particular case will be made.

JACKSON—

the people if elected to the office of Mayor.

Mr. Jackson favors a reduction in present property values so as to bring about greater savings to the property owners. He is advocating quarterly payments of taxes instead of the annual system now in effect. He believes this system will greatly aid salaried men to pay their taxes without burden.

Mr. Jackson advocates extension of the sewer system to serve all sections of the city so that no property owner will be deprived of the advantages his tax money should insure to him.

Mr. Jackson is a young man and energetic and if elected would give much of his time to the affairs of the city and would at all times have the welfare of the property owners at heart.

Any assistance his friends may give him in his canvas for this office will be greatly appreciated. He promises if elected to pay back to the people in terms of service the obligation imposed for their expressed will and confidence.

S. H. Hopkins, of Waelder, formerly of Cameron, visited friends in Cameron last week.

an open book. For the past several months he has been chairman for the board of compliance with the NRA for which work he has received no compensation, giving freely of his time to this work for the federal government. In seeking the office of City Secretary and Treasurer he points out that he would be able to devote his entire time to the place and would not have to devote time to other employment. In these times of depression, he believes that it would be a just distribution of opportunity for one to hold only one position at a time, thus insuring a greater opportunity for all to share in earnings.

Through long residence in the city he has been closely associated with development and knows property values and the needs of the city to which his experience would bring a helpful service.

Mr. Henderson asks your vote and support both upon the grounds of his qualification for the office and his desire to serve in the place and would appreciate an opportunity to discharge the duties of this office.

He was a member of the Catholic church and the affairs of the Burlington parish always claimed his interested attention. He reared his family at Burlington. He claimed the friendship of many because of his fine character and helpful citizenship.

He is survived by three sons, Bart and Joe Cahill of Burlington and Ben Cahill who lives in Nevada; one daughter, Sister Edward Marie of St. Mary's Academy in Austin; two sisters, Mrs. Katherine Boyles and Mrs. Pat H. Hopkins of Waco.

Early Extension Work under direction of the Department of Agriculture, will be recalled by many here who remember Mrs. Edna Trigg who was the first home demonstration agent in Milam county. In a recent edition of the San Antonio Express considerable space was devoted to the progress of Extension Work in Texas, and Mrs. Trigg was given prominent mention. Milam county stands high in the ranks of Texas counties on Extension work and also the County Agent, Geo. Banzhaf, is the oldest agent in Texas in point of service to the government.

Cooperation Cleans Out Prairie Dogs

This pile of 300 prairie dogs represents a 99% kill on 50 acres of the farm belonging to W. C. Schaefer, Childress county farmer. The dogs were poisoned in a county-wide campaign under the direction of the county agent and with the assistance of the U. S. Biological survey. Prairie dogs are very detrimental to farm crops, laying waste to large areas if allowed to multiply.

NEW 1934 CHEVROLET IS SHOWN IN TEXAS

The new 1934 Chevrolet with "knee action" wheels, 80-horsepower "Blue Streak" engine, streamlined body and an imposing list of improvements and refinements is being shown at the New York automobile show and at a series of 100 special factory showings in key cities throughout the United States.

R. G. Grabein of the Grabein Chevrolet Co., was in Dallas Monday to attend the showing and with a number of the local sales force will go to Houston Thursday to attend a zone meeting for the Chevrolet dealers. He expects to have a complete line of New 1934 Chevrolets in a few days.

In the design and development of the new models, it is said, particular attention has been given to driver and passenger comfort and every effort has been made to eliminate the unpleasant sensations of sound and feeling that proves so annoying to the motorist.

The new Chevrolet is longer—112 inches of wheelbase—roomier, more powerful, smoother and more quiet than its predecessor. The engine is placed several inches forward in the chassis and seating has been rearranged so as to provide more space for front and rear seat passengers.

In appearance, the sleekness which has characterized Chevrolet cars in the past, is further accentuated by the actual length increase plus the treatment of the car design itself.

The increased power delivered by the new "Blue Streak" engine improves the flashing performance and the many engine refinements, combined with distinct chassis improvements insure extremely fast, safe, economical and quiet operation. The new Chevrolet has a top speed of 80 mile per hour and its improved acceleration is in proportion.

Both front and rear seat passengers are insulated from road shocks by the introduction of independent front wheel suspension—known as "knee action" wheels—combined with greatly improved rear spring suspension and a more balanced distribution of weight. The improved riding qualities are present at all speeds and under all road conditions, but the greatest improvement is noticeable at high speeds and on rough roads. Steering stability is, of course, greatly improved by the new system and wheel fight completely eliminated.

The 1934 line of passenger cars again feature Fisher no-draft ventilation in all closed body types. The same smart bever tail design and flowing stream lines which characterized the previous closed bodies, are continued in the 1934 line with modifications.

Production on the new Chevrolet is being increased each day. Chevrolet officials state that within a few days there should be a complete line of cars in every dealer's showrooms and available to the buying public. An unprecedented number of retail orders are reported on hand by the 3,500 larger Chevrolet dealers who visited the central office and the General Motors Proving Ground within the past two weeks to see and drive the new models.

"When I get bilious I have a bad taste in my mouth, have sour stomach, my color is bad, and I get dizzy and feel awfully bad. I have headache constantly. When I take Black-Draught it relieves me and I feel like a new person. I don't think there is a better medicine than Black-Draught."

Pity Poor Fish Who Couldn't Keep His Nose to Himself

When J. V. Bradley of San Angelo, Texas, threw his hook into Lake Norsworthy, near that city, he didn't know he was going to drag out an affair like this. These big mouthed black bass evidently got into an argument, which ended when the big boy swallowed (or partly swallowed) the little fellow. Try it on your best friend sometime! Confirmed fisherman say it is possible for the larger fish, 12½ inches long, to completely swallow and digest by degrees, the smaller fish 11½ inches long.

MRS. J. L. HARWELL IS BURIED LITTLE RIVER

The funeral of Mrs. J. L. Harwell, age 69, was held Wednesday afternoon at her home at 2 o'clock by Rev. W. L. Cannan, pastor of the First Methodist church, Cameron, conducting the last sad rites, with interment in Little River cemetery.

Mrs. Harwell was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Marks, was born in Mississippi and came to Texas with her parents when quite small.

She was first married to J. T. Crawford of Roanoak, Texas. This union was blessed with two daughters, one of whom is now Mrs. J. E. Bell of Cameron. The other died in infancy. Mr. Crawford died in 1889 and later Mrs. Cranford married J. L. Harwell, and her surviving children are Mrs. A. A. Griffin, Brady; Mrs. Grady Maddox, Ben Arnold, Mrs. Julius Levy, Brady, J. P. Harwell, Elvin Harwell and Mrs. Homer Terry of Cameron. Also is survived by two sisters, Mrs. R. C. Sharp, Mrs. Garner and two brothers, W. B. and Calvin Marks.

Funeral services were held at Walker's Creek Baptist Church on Saturday, conducted by Rev. N. D. Timmerman of the First Baptist Church in Cameron. Interment was made in Walker's Creek cemetery, with Coleman Funeral Home in Cameron directing arrangements.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hickman and family extend their sympathy.

TRUCK GROWERS FORM ORGANIZATION AT MILANO

The truck growers around Milano and nearby communities met Saturday night, January 13 and organized an Association.

Clyde Hensley was elected chairman and A. W. Butts, secretary and treasurer.

The growers expect to adopt standard variety of seeds in each of the crops discussed, namely: tomatoes, cantaloupes and watermelons, and have a uniform seeding date in order to facilitate the largest possible loading capacity from the acreage planted to these crops.

The meeting was attended by a large group of enthusiastic growers who are willing to co-operate and pool their efforts toward growing crops of the highest quality, planting only the best of seed, and marketing their crops to the best advantage for themselves and the community. It is their aim to establish a trade mark that will be recognized on the market as the best and will be fixed permanently on the minds of the consumer as "Quality From the Sand."

Data gathered from the growers point to an acreage of tomatoes totaling approximately 75 acres; between 300 and 400 acres of cantaloupes and probably 500 or more acres of watermelons. A more complete survey of the acreage can be ascertained as the crops get under way.

The schedule of fees to be charged candidates for political announcements have been carefully apportioned in accordance with the approximate earnings of the office listed and will be charged according to the published list.

The publishers believe these fees are equitable and just and represent fair charges. Some offices return to the incumbent more compensation than others and the differences in these amounts account for the apportionment made. In the case of the offices of Tax Assessor and Collector, now combined, it will be noted that formerly the total aggregate for both announcements was $20. Under the new schedule the fee has been placed at $17.50, a reduction over the combined announcement fees charged heretofore.

The increase in the announcement fee charged for District Judge and County Superintendent is made because the terms of office are for four instead of two years:

Health Philosophy In Rhyme Set Out By "Kid Cleanups"

The philosophers of better health among fourth grade pupils have written the rules of keeping clean in rhyme as follows:

If you want to be healthy, happy and strong
Do not eat between meals, for that is wrong.
Earline Rankin.

Mind the health rules every day,
At your work and at your play;
When you eat and when you sleep—
Everyone should keep right neat.
Iva Jean Akers.

I'll keep the health rule,
And try to do right;
I'll brush my teeth both day & night.
Wiley Pringle.

If you want to be healthy,
Take this advice:
Eat wholesome food,
And plenty of rice.
Grady Baskin.

Milk, fruit and vegetables
Will make me strong,
Healthy and happy
All my life long.
Marion Hall.

As for air we breathe day and night,
It must be fresh to make us feel right.
Dan Milton Caldwell.

Eat plenty of vegetables,
Like greens and carrots;
"Have manners," I say,
Better than parrots.
Rosemary Bennett.

Take a bath at least three times a week.
And keep cool and neat;
Wash before you eat,
And don't eat too much meat.
Jimmy Coleman.

Eat slowly and drink slowly,
Play out of doors each day;
Sleep with windows open too,
And do not always have your way.
Frances Overton.

I'll try to keep the health rules,
And try to do right,
I will brush my teeth
Both day and night;
I will go to bed early
To make my nights long,
And get fresh air
Good for me and you.
Nathan Lewis.

You should always be healthy
To have any fun,
You must get plenty of rest
So you can jump and run.
Shirley Mae Horstmann.

Nagging Pains are WARNING SIGNALS

TEMPORARY pain relief remedies may save you much suffering at the moment, but putting a mask over a warning signal does not clear up the condition it was telling you to avoid.

When periodic pains, due to a weak, run-down condition, distress you, treatment for the cause of the trouble should be started without delay.

Take Cardui to build up against the nagging symptoms of ordinary womanly ailments. It has been in use for over 50 years. So many women praise CARDUI, it must be good to have the widespread use that it has today. Sold at drug stores.

You will find a wide selection of reading matter on our magazine stand for your long winter nights.

Won't you investigate before these good bargains are gone? Only a few floor models remain. Estate Heatrola floor models are also included.

The floor furnace is easily installed, on terms to fit your monthly budget, in houses old or new. It is installed beneath the floor, requiring no room space. Small down payment.

Taut Nerves
mean tired tomorrows

"Did you hear that noise...?"

How many times have husbands been awakened in the middle of the night by that tense question? How many times have wives been rudely reminded . . . "It's your imagination . . .!"

But, fear is something real. Taut nerves cause sleepless nights and tired tomorrows. A woman is afraid...and a man fails to make an out-of-town trip essential to his business. Serious illness often is traceable to fear.

May we suggest a simple remedy?

Have a telephone installed within easy reach of the bed. It's a comfort to know that police, firemen, physicians, await your call. And, wouldn't it be a pleasure to have a willing servant ready to run your errands, help you to visit with friends . . . 24 hours a day?

You can have a telephone for less than a dime a day. Call the Business Office. Say: "I want a telephone."
